RECENT EVENTS AND INFORMATION IN RELATION TO THE ISSUER

1 3 December 2007 – Closing of EDF's shares' sale by the French State

Mrs. Christine Lagarde, Minister of Economy, Finance and Employment, announced the closing of the sale of 2.5% of the share capital of EDF initiated on the same day by the French State.

45 million EDF shares were sold to French and international institutional investors, for a global amount of approximately EUR 3.7 billion.

At the outcome of such operation and prior to the offer reserved to employees and former employees of the company, the French State will hold directly 84.8% of EDF's share capital, in accordance with French law which provides a minimum holding of 70% by the French State in the corporation's share capital.

As French law provides, an offer reserved to employees and former employees will be issued in the course of the next few months, and will target 15% of the operation's volume, i.e. approximately 0.4% of the share capital. The agenda and practical details (proposed formulas) will be decided within the next few weeks, for implementation in 2008.

2 30 November 2007 – EDF and ENEL sign strategic partnership agreement on Flamanville EPR during Franco-Italian summit

At the Franco-Italian summit currently taking place in Nice and attended by the French President and the Italian Prime Minister, the EDF Chairman and CEO, Pierre Gadonneix, and Enel CEO, Fulvio Conti, have just signed a strategic partnership agreement.

This agreement, which concerns the EPR currently under construction at Flamanville, follows the cooperation agreement signed by the two companies in May 2005, which made provision for Enel to join France's third generation nuclear programme.

Under the terms of today's agreement, Enel is acquiring a 12.5% stake in the Flamanville 3 EPR project by contributing to the financing of this investment and gaining access to a proportion of the electricity produced equal to its stake.

The partnership also gives Enel the option of deploying engineers to EDF's teams working on the project at the Flamanville site, with a view to regaining expertise in the nuclear energy sector.

Finally, Enel also has an option, until 2023, of up to a 12.5% stake under similar terms, in the next five EPR projects may be implemented by EDF in France during that period. EDF will equally have the option to participate, under similar terms, in future nuclear projects developed by Enel in Europe.

EDF and Enel have also entered into discussions to extend this partnership to other forms of energy production in France and Europe. A memorandum of understanding allows for a possible reciprocal shareholding in new development projects.

EDF's Chairman and CEO Pierre Gadonneix issued the following statement: "EDF is delighted to welcome a major industrial partner such as Enel to the EPR project. This is a partnership that can only become stronger. Following EDF's success in Italy with the outstanding performance of Edison, jointly owned by the Group, this partnership marks the start of a new phase that will help strengthen Franco-Italian ties. This represents a step forward in the building of Europe's energy industry."

3 26 November 2007 – EDF to become investor and operator in China in order to develop EPR nuclear power stations with its partner CGNPC

During the official trip to China of the President of the French Republic, EDF and the Chinese energy company CGNPC (China Guangdong Nuclear Power Company) have signed a joint venture agreement for the ownership, construction and operation of two new generation EPR reactors at Taishan in the province of Guangdong.

The construction of these two EPR units, developed by AREVA with a high level of performance and safety, at 1,700 MW capacity each, could begin during Fall 2009.

The units are expected to go into service in 2014.

The signing of this strategic agreement by Pierre Gadonneix, CEO of EDF, and by Qian Zhimin, President of CGNPC, took place in Beijing in the presence of the heads of the state of France and China, and of numerous VIPs.

This agreement follows on from the industrial partnership announced in October 2006 between EDF and CGNPC.

As part of the joint venture agreement, EDF will acquire a shareholding of approximately one third in Taishan Nuclear Power Company (TNPC), which is the company owning the EPR.

EDF will contribute the know-how it has acquired as the operator of the largest nuclear fleet worldwide.

CGNPC takes responsibility for providing the building site and will make available its engineering and operational capabilities, developed over more than twenty years as operator of the Guangdong power generation facilities.

EDF and CGNPC also intend to sign a comprehensive cooperation agreement to study joint development projects in China and internationally.

The joint venture agreement is subject to the approval of the Chinese authorities and of the governing bodies of the two signatory companies.

Pierre Gadonneix, EDF Chairman and CEO, stated : "This agreement is a major step for EDF which, for the first time, will become both investor and operator of nuclear reactors in China. We are delighted to broaden our cooperation with CGNPC, a major player in the Chinese nuclear industry, with whom we have been working in a spirit of trust for more than 20 years, since the construction and commissioning of Daya Bay and Ling Ao. As part of the very fast growing Chinese energy market, EDF will continue to contribute its industrial expertise and experience, acknowledged world-wide, and acquired from the operation of 58 reactors in France, including the experience gained as investor in the EPR technology at Flamanville. EDF will thereby contribute to the safe, dependable and competitive production of electricity, free from greenhouse gases emissions.”

4 8 November 2007 – Quarterly information : Organic sales growth of 1.4% for the first nine months of 2007

The EDF Group’s sales stood at € 42.6 billion for the first nine months of 2007, representing organic growth of 1.4%, including 0.6% in France and 2.6% in Europe excluding France. Sales were slightly down on the same period in 2006, due in particular to negative scope effects (disposal of Light in Brazil).

In millions of euros	9-month 2007	9-month 2006	Change 2007/2006	Organic growth*
France	23,031	22,897	+0.6%	+0.6%

Rest of Europe	4,209	3,665	+14.8%	+2.6%

Rest of the world	945	1,832	-48.4%	+0.9%

*Excluding scope, exchange rate and method effects.

France

Sales for the first nine months of 2007 rose by 0.6% to stand at € 23 billion.

Slight sales growth in the first half of 2007 was due to mild weather conditions.

Third-quarter sales growth came out at 1.4%. The first major effect of the application of the transition tariff and the decrease in volume sold on the wholesale markets (due in particular to lower availability of nuclear facilities) slowed down this performance. These factors should weigh on EBITDA growth in France in the second half of 2007.

International

Sales in Europe excluding France totalled € 18.7 billion, representing organic growth of 2.6%.

In the United Kingdom, EDF Energy posted sales of € 6.2 billion, representing organic growth of 6%, including 2.9% generated in the third quarter. This nine-month growth is primarily due to the impact over the first months of the year of the tariff increases for electricity and natural gas which came into effect in the second half of 2006, and also the higher number of customer accounts (up 3% on the same period last year). The first impact of EDF Energy's natural gas price cut of June 15, 2007 was reflected in the company's third-quarter sales.

In Germany, Group sales totalled € 5 billion, representing organic growth of 9.3%, including 6.8% generated in the third quarter. Electricity sales were up 17%, reflecting higher volume sold on wholesale markets and with industrial clients, and higher average wholesale prices than for the same period in 2006. Mild weather had an overall smaller impact on the gas business than in the 1st half of the year, with the decrease in nine-month sales of 20%. EnBW's sales include a positive scope effect of 4.3%, due in particular to the consolidation over nine months of the Group's stake in SWD (1st full consolidation as of 31st March 2006).

In Italy, sales totalled € 3.3 billion excluding scope effect, representing negative organic growth of minus 8.8%. This decline is mainly related to reflects the decrease in Edison's sales, largely due to the drop in electricity prices on the market and lower gas sales volumes against a backdrop of mild weather conditions over the first quarter of the year.

In the rest of Europe, sales stood at € 4.2 billion. Organic growth came out at 2.6%, including negative organic growth of -13.1% in the third quarter, due in particular to the decline in EDF Trading's trading margin, reflecting lower market volatility. Nine-month growth figures were bolstered by tariff and price increases in CEEC . Sales for the rest of Europe include a positive scope effect of 11.4% mainly linked to SSE in Slovakia and to EDF Energies Nouvelles.

In the rest of the world, the Group recorded organic growth of 0.9% and benefited in particular from increased electricity production in Asia. The overall sales trend mainly reflected a negative scope effect due to the sale of Light in Brazil (out of the consolidation scope since 1st July 2006).

Outlook for 2007

EBITDA growth in 2007 should be in line with the objective of EBITDA's multi-annual growth of 3% to 6% announced at the time of the IPO.

EDF SA's Board of Directors, meeting on November 7, 2007 under the Chairmanship of Pierre Gadonneix, has set itself the objective to proceed with the distribution, every year, at year-end, of an interim dividend for the current financial year, provided that legal, accounting, economic and financial conditions are met. The Board of Directors thus decided to pay, in respect of 2007 financial year, an interim dividend of 0.58 euro per share as of November 30, 2007.

This transaction is based on a value of US$ 1.448 billion.

Completion of the deal requires approval from the board of EDF, as well as from the competent French and Mexican authorities.

The disposal is part of the EDF Group's announced strategy to refocus on its activities in Europe and to participate to the revival of nuclear power worldwide.

7 17 September 2007 - Sale by EDF of its 84.5 % stake in the Compagnie Eolienne du Détroit which operates wind farms in Morocco

The EDF Group has just signed an agreement with THEOLIA, the European leader in the production of wind-generated electricity, for the sale of its 84.5% shareholding in the Compagnie Eolienne du Détroit (CED). The completion of this agreement remains subject to conditions precedent, in particular, to the approval of the relevant French and Moroccan authorities.

The Compagnie Eolienne du Détroit CED was created in 1998, to finance, build and operate for 19 years (under a concession contract with the Office National de l'Electricité (ONE)/National Electricity Office of Morocco) a wind farm composed of 84 wind turbines of 50MW total capacity, put into service in August 2000, and located in Abdelkhalek Torrès, in the Tetouan province in the north of the country.
