EPR FLAMANVILLE 3

NOVEMBER 2017: THE LATEST NEWS IN PICTURES
Main control room
Thursday 23 November: Tests being performed on a chemical and volume control system.
Reactor building
Load tests being performed on the polar crane.
Reactor building

Wednesday 28 November: Commissioning of the first reactor coolant pump (pump no. 2).
Reactor building
Workers extracting a radiological tool from a main steam system pipe.
Reactor building
Remote monitoring of a grinding operation inside a main steam system pipe.
Reactor building
Workers check that the inside of the reactor coolant system is clean before the start of cold testing.
Reactor building
Workers installing a gasket inside reactor coolant pump no. 3.
Reactor building

Pickling/passivation work inside the emergency core-cooling cavity.
Safeguard buildings

Worker performing maintenance on the internals of a safety-injection pump.
Safeguard buildings
A maintenance worker replaces anti-friction bearings inside the safety-injection system motor.
Turbine building
Commissioning of the chemical treatment unit.
Pump house
Testing of the essential service water system (French acronym: SEC).
Pump house
Worker checking the tightness of wall penetration seals in train 1.
Site

Work on the PARTNER Sud area is nearing completion. By mid-December, all offices and changing rooms will be occupied.
Site
Completion of paint work inside the walkway between the operational service centre, the turbine building and the building leading to the main control room.
Site
Worker installing cables inside the walkway.
Site

Work forges ahead on the site’s permanent fences.
Site

The Flamanville-3 site is now in its final stage of construction. The security turnstiles have been installed.
Site

Conformance inspection of floor grating in all the buildings.
Site
Worker installing electrical connections inside the emergency control centre.